PRACTICE DIRECTION 1.4.1

[Formerly PDR 2013, para 41; PDR 1989, chap 1, para 34]

EXTENSION OF TIME

If an extension of time within which to plead be given to a party he/she shall, if so required, accept short notice of trial at the next sittings of the court as if the pleading had been delivered in the time ordinarily limited for its delivery without any extension, as the party allowing the extension would have been in a position to have given notice of trial for such sittings.
